Leading Insurance Company

Case Study

The client.

Seeking to enhance collaboration and user-friendliness in their workplace, a prominent insurance company embarked on a project to modernise their facilities.

The project.

To meet the company's needs for adaptability and growth, we implemented our custom-sized, reconfigurable modular storage system, Plexus, alongside over 500 Digilock lockers.

These solutions not only accommodated substantial growth but also facilitated the creation of flexible workstations tailored to employee needs.

The result.

The project successfully transformed the company's office into a sustainable and flexible environment, empowering hybrid working and fostering collaboration among employees.
